PERSECUTION AT THE SOUTH .- The war is to be, on the part of the rebels, a war of cruelty. At sea, it will be conducted by pirates, and on land, when the opportunity offers, by inurderous mobs. The experiment of an attack upon troops, however, like that at Baltimore, is not likely to be repeated, not from the want, indeed, of will on their part, but because the chance is not likely to be offered them on ours. But the persecution of peaceful people in their quiet homes is becoming a marked feature of the violence and cruelty which will become more and more stringent as the rebellion progresses. Already, throughout the rebellious states the most stringent despotism is exercised over all persons in favor of the Union, and not these only, but those who are not in favor of secession. The number who have been already banished it is impossible to tell, as they fly unconneed through all parts of the country; but from the few whom, by chance, we happen to fall in with in this city, we know that the persecution is general and the fight universal. As in the days of the old French revolu-tion, it is enough that a man be suspected to bring upon him the enmity of the secession mob, and the test of an oath to the rebellious state is at once offered. Nor is an oath enough; the suspected person must enroll at once to serve in the army or in the home-guard, to protect the country from the northern enemy, and the enemy soon still more dreaded on their own plantations and at their own firesides. But this is only in the border states. Further south, the man on whom suspicion points had better fly for his life before worse comes of it. We have seen in this city, within three days, whole families -- men, women and children-who have thus been compelled to escape from Virginia, and were glad to escape with their lives. They have left farms and houses, implements and furniture, horses, cattle and produce, as spoils to the mob. Sometimes they have been permitted the use of their own teams to reach the nearest railway stations; but once there, they have left horses and carriages standing at the roadside for the use of whomsoever chose to take possession, and have got into the first train, stripped of all their worldly wealth, except the clothes they stood in. Only two weeks ago we had from the lips of the head of a family, an account of their escape. At twelve o'clock at night he received notice that they must leave within twelve hours, unless he took the cath of alegiance to Virginia, and enlisted in a local company. He swore that "so help him God" he would never raise his hand against the flag under which he and his had always found protection. In the morning they ef feeted their escape, leaving even the breakfast table us they rose from it. The man has left behind not less that $50,000 worth of the kind used by the French, and in London and Paris it is in universal use.

It is a beautiful, economical, soething, yet stimulating compound, acting as if by magic upon the roots, causing a beautiful growth of inxariant hair. If application is a superscript of the persecution which has already been brought against hundreds and ready been brought against hundreds and perhaps thousands of persons, compelling them to fly for their lives, has brought upin rebellion all the horrors of the most relentless war. We have no doubt that the sufferings of all these persons will be in due time considered by government. But that is not enough. In the mean time they are exposed to loss and suffering for which there can be, in the nature of the case, no compensation. The fright, the exposure, the sorrow of women and children driven from home, the temporary poverty, the necessity of be-ginning life anew—all these things are wrongs for which there can be no pecuniary compensation. It may be that there is no remedy, for a mob is as unreasoning as an angry beast; but there may be, at least, some attempt to check this persecution. The government should make it known that the confiscation of the property of all rebels will be enforced in all rebellious states, and that all who have suffered from their persecutions shall be compensated out of the confiscated property.— New York Tribunc.

"Enrors Cornected." - Under this head

a Montgomery paper says:
The telegraphic despatches sent from this point to northern papers do signal injustice to the dignity (1) of our official. It is not true that Lincoln's proclamation was reseived by the cabinet with bursts of laughter. However ludicrous may have been Liucoln's demand for us to depart to our homes within twenty days, the cabinet is too deeply convinced of the lamentable nature of present difficulties to treat the movements of our enemies in any but a serious mood. Again, the despatch transmitted as Davis reply to Lincoln was a couplet which, in fact, was a portion of a patriotic song at the theater upon the reception of the news from Sumter. Mr. Davis never descended from the dignity of his position to indulge in such trivialities, but was much offended at the transmission of the obnoxious despatch. A FEARFUL RAILROAD DISISTER .-- A fearful disaster occurred last evening at half-past 7 o'clock, on the Michigan South-ern railroad, at the crossing of the Illinois Central, about eight miles from the city. The locomotive No. 64, drawing a passenger train at full speed, exploded its boiler, tearing the engine to pieces, killing two men, and seriously if not fatally injuring another, and throwing the train from the track. The train was the regular passenger, due here at 8 o'clock. It was running at high speed, with a train from Cincinnati half a mile in the rear on the other track, when as it approached the crossing, steam was shut off, and in an instant the boiler exploded, reducing the engine to a heap of ru-

The fireman was buried under the wreck and instantly killed. The road-master was thrown into the air and met the same fate, and the engineer narrowly escaped death, having been found insensible and severely injured. Although by the sudden crash the train was thrown from the track, none of the passengers were injured. The Cincinaati train stopped and rendered such assistance as was possible, and brought the passengers and baggage to the city.

A jury of inquest is in session to day upon the bodies of the deceased, but up to the time of going to press they have returned no verdict. The names of the deceased are Charles Stalb, fireman, and Wm. Anderson, road master. Stalb leaves a family at Laporte. The evidence before the ury as far as taken fails to establish a satisfactory cause for the explosion - Chicago

Put Faith in the Government.

The government is moving forward vigorougly in the prosecution of the war to put down the rebellion. The people and the government are in accord; from henceforth let there be no grumbling at apparently tardy measures. Mistakes may be made, but when once the people thoroughly understand that their leaders are in earnest. and will do the best they can, they will work and wait patiently. We cannot know the full cetails of the plans of the comder-in-chief; the public good and the success of military movements demand secrecv. Let us put full faith in the president. his cabinet, and Gen. Scott, and do our share of the work with a will and without questions. In this way we can make a short war and a glorious peace.

The Secession Election in Virginia.

The first duty of the government is, after the fifth of May, according to the president's proclamation, to repossess the forts, arsenals and places, belonging to the United States, which have been taken by the seceding states. That this will be done Ferry, the Norfolk navy yard, and the fedral property at Richmond, Baltimore and Alexandria, will be immediately repossesed. Virginia will feel the first power of the government. This is necessary, not only for the safety of the national capital, but as a political move. Virginia is to vote upon the question of secession on the 23d of May. As the vote is to be by voice at the polls, the game of the secessionists will be to overawe the Union men with threats, and compel them to stay away from the polls. or vote for secession. It is proper, therefore, that the government should occupy prominent points in Virginia to protect and encourage the friends of the constitution. The secession election is not, of course, legal, but if secession is voted down, it will

But our people characteristically expect everything to be done in twenty minutes, while war, to be successfully carried on, must sometimes make haste slowly. The Empire City controls the public opinion and the fate of the United States.— New York Herald.

The public opinion of the country conrolled that of New York in the present crisis. That city was for the rebels until it became apparent that it would lose its trade and become surrounded by a hostile population, if it continued to sympathise with the truitors—then it came round and stood firm for the Union; the Herald itself was forced into the Union movement precisely as the majority of the New York popualtion was. Jones, as published in the papers on the occasion of the march thro' Baltimore, your readers no doubt, in common with many others, were out of patience with the patience exhibited by the soldiers. But they were acting under order of their officers, and the general command was "not to fire without orders;" after the order, however, was given for the first platoon to fire, they felt that the "ice was broken," (I quote the words of one of them) "and as the point beyond which endurance ceases o be a virtue' had long been passed, they concluded to do up a little retaliatory shootng on their own hook!".

During the second rally that the mob made upon them, a great two fisted rowdy -ascertained since to have been one of the notorious " plug-uglies"—threw a quid of tobacco in the face of a passing soldier, and then struck him in the face with his great dirty hand. The indignant soldier kept on s rod or two, so as to be at a convenient distance, and leveling the musket introduced a small conical piece of lead over his assailant's left eve.

Again as they were passing up Pratt St. near Howard, a murderous villain threw a whole brick from a second story window, striking one of the soldiers on the back, and felling him nearly to the ground. The scoundrel seemed to enjoy his hit bugely eaning out of the window and laughing heartily. As the fallen soldier recovered himself, his comrade pointed out the win dow with the remark, "that's your man; when no sooner said than done—the little missile did its work most effectually, his game falling outside on the pavement.

When the assaulted regiment reached

Washington they were met at the depot and welcomed by a patriotic crowd with almost entire unanimity. Yet secession has strong hold here whenever it dare show itself, and on this occasion several sneering remarks were made by sympathizers with the chivalry-for instance as the regiment marched from the depot; to the capitol the people walked along in the street, the military occupying the side-walk, one man of known southern proclivities, remarked-'that crowd won't fight-they look conced!" The orderly of one of the companies overhearing him said, "You try them with a paving stone and see whether they'll fight; and abusive language too-we had about enough of that in Baltimore; and when we meet men whose homes we come to protect we look for a different kind of greeting, and we shall enforce it at the point of the bayonet." The indignant retort was received with shouts from the loyalists, and the sneaking traitor escaped lynching on the spot by taking to his heels and losing himself amongst the crowd.

It has been amusing to witness the changing features of secession here for two weeks past. The element has been alternately up and down, according to circumstances, like a drove of gophers on a prairie. Whilst the Virginia convention had the pad lock of secresy on their deliberations, the gophers were about head and shoulders above ground, listening and watching to see what was going to be what. When the report of the war proclamation burst suddealy upon the silent and unsuspecting air. there was not a gopher to be seen for days after. Again-the morning after the Baltimore mob it was remarkable to see how thick the gophers were, and how bold they had become-they were scampering all round "thick as hops!" But in a day or two when the New York 7th regiment arrived with the news that Annapolis was all alive with troops, and the Chesapeake swarming with an innumerable fleet, presto change, the gophers were missing, taking even their holes with them, for they are no where to be funnd. Yesterday un Ohioan, and something of wag withal, attracted quite a crowd at the National Hotel, by the declaration that 'Ohio didn't propose to march under government orders-that they were going to attend to Virginia, North and South Caroline on their own book, marching from the Susquehanna overland through Maryland, (Baltimore they propose to snuff out as they pass along,) and so on down south." He said, "we shall take it easy, twenty miles a day, our teams in the rear to back us up with 'hog and hominy!' and we count." said he, "that we shall be a match for the chivalry of the aforesaid states, relying for orub on their respective staples, cotton, turpentine and tobacco!"

But our once a day mail obliges me to close for the present. More anon.

Washington, April 29, 1861. THE PROGRAMME FOR CAPTURING WASH-NGTON .- The following was the programme for capturing Washington by the rebels: The plan was to surround Washington with 100,000 men before Gen. Scott half that number in the field to defend it The obstructions offered by Maryland are part of the programme to retard the arrival of reinforcements for the federal government, until they can bring up every available man from all the southern states, and overwhelm Gen. Scott by the force of num bers, Maryland, it is said, promises 10,000 for the attack on her side, which force is to be joined by 5,000 under McCulloch from irginia; 6,000 more will form a junction with the Maryland troops from Harper's Ferry, while Gen's. Davis, Beauregard and Ferry, while Gen's. Davis, Lee, with the main body, full 50,000 strong will suddenly cover the heights above

Word was conveyed to the coroner, and an inquest was held; but nothing was developed which would lead to an identification of the unfortunate deceased. The body was that of a man about five feet eight inches high; brown hair, and sandy whiskers. The dress was a heavy black cloth cost; pants of the same material, black broadcloth vest; black silk cravat; mixed grey drawers; new black velvet cap. There was found upon the a Sanday School newspaper, and a one dol-

Another Meeting in Clinton.

We find in the Beloit Courier the proceedings of another meeting in the town of western Virginia. Our paper for days past Clinton last Saturday. H. W. Carpenter was chairman, and G. N. Willis was secretary. D. G. Cheever, S. S. Nortrop, Dr. Hunter and Capt. Starks, of the Shopiere volunteers; Messrs. Hammond, Samson, Hartshome, volunteer from Janesville, Mo-G. Smith, Dr. Warner, O. Turner, and M. G. Weaver addressed the meeting. The amount of subscription to the relief fund previously made was $2,070, and to this, $430 was added at this meeting. It was also unanimously agreed to raise a fund of $320, to be appropriated in purchasing revolvers for the use of our young men who have enlisted. This fund is greatly indebted to the "Union-loving" ladies of Clinton, who made a bold strike for their country and their country's honor, by contributing their mite for the more perfect equipment

RUNAWAYS RETURNED.-Last Saturday night four boys escaped from the Reform School at Waukesha, and arrived here Monday evening, having followed the railroad track. They applied at the residence of Sheriff Putnam for food, much wearied by their long jaunt on foot. The sheriff by their long jaunt on foot. A POEM ON THE CURRENCY, The West Bend Post perpetrates the following:

Sing a song a sixpence, Pocket full of bills— Some of them on this State, And some of them on Ills. Banks a busting daily, Going up sky high-Isn't this a pretty dish, And pleasing to the eye?

DIFFICULTIES ENCOUNTERED .- The New the administration so fiercely, have been a made the attack, Gen. Scott had comparaively no soldiers at all at Washington, and the Capitol could have easily been taken. They therefore had to go to work coolly, quietly and cautiously. Their complete helplessness for a few days is shown by the following, from a Washington correspondent:

"As soon as the trains were stopped, and the soldiers prevented from passing through Baltimore by the mob, Gen. Scott held the Washington end of the telegraph office, and prevented any communications from going over except those of the departments.-Secretary Cameron continued for three days to send his orders over the wires for supplies and movements of troops, supposing passing a farm house, their peaceful flag those to whom the despatches were directwas mistaken for a secession banner by the ed, as word was sent back from Baltimore woman of the house, who first sought for a that the wires were in working order thro' gun to take a shot at the obnexious em. to New York. Not receiving any reply to is despatches, his suspicions were aroused, and upon examining into the matter, it was found that Marshal Kane, of Baltimore, of the State in three weeks, working twelve had possession of the office in that city, and detained everything that the thing the detained everything, thus being able to understand the true position of the government and all their contemplated movements. Thus tied up, it is really a wonder that the Capitol was not taken from the hands of the government."

"Yesterday, a Methodist clergyman went down to Staten Island to exhort them. Billy Wilson drew his men up, and called 'at-tention!' The Parson then gave them a very edifying and appropriate discourse, to which, in obedience to the Colonel's commands, they listened attentively. When the Parson had finished, Billy gave his boys' a short talk, somewhat in this wise: Boys, I want you to remember what the Minister has told you. It is all for your good; take his advice, and follow it; for there is no knowing but what in less than in six months every d—d — of you will be in hell!' Here a voice from the ranks called out 'Three cheers for Hell!' and they were given with a will. The Parson, astonished and angry, asked what it meant. 'Oh,'says Billy, 'The boys don't know much about Scripture. They think Hell is somewhere between Mout-gomery and New Orleans, and they are d—d anxious to get down in that neighbor hood!"—Milwankee Sentinel.

ANDY JOHNSON NOT MOBBED-HOW HE SCARED THE TRAITORS .- The Louisville Journal says :

It has been stated that while the crowd at Lynchburg, Va., was groaning at Andy Johnson, and offering him various indigni-tics, one man pulled his nose. A Louisville gentleman who was there at the time, says that Andy's nose was not pulled. A fellow attempted it, but Andy drew a pistol and would have shot him on the instant if the men present had not interposed.

Our informant was on the same train with Andy for a considerable distance this side of Lynchburg, and he says that the sturdy old gentleman, although insulted by the populace at every stopping point, showed a nerve that a Napoleon or Cæsar might have admired. All benor to the brave and

DR. FRANKLIN.—The following anecdote was related by a gentleman who was a deseendent of Pennsylvania hospital:

THE NORTHWEST AND THE UNION. -- We point the country with pride and patriotic exultation to the Union uprisings in northtachment of our people to the stars and stripes, and to-day we publish further evidences. Northwestern Virginia is sound. She will neither be coaxed or driven into the schemes of the traitors. On the contrary, she will stand like the exposed Swiss Cantons in the days of treason, "a living wall-a human wood," against the rebels

God bless our northwest! Her name in a few weeks time, when the wicked rattlesnake conspiracy shall have been over whelmed and crushed out, will be the praise and admiration of the nation.

Military movements are going forward so rapidly and in so many different parts of the city, that it is almost impossible to keep the run of them. The Germans are going into the movement with all their character istic patriotism. It is a notable fact, too. that nearly all of this population are familiar with military tactics, baving served in the Fatherland, and are therefore progresof our soldiers. A portion of this fund was sing more rapidly than those who know comparatively nothing. However, a knowledge of the drill is being rapidly picked up, for where there is a will there is a way." Wheeling Intelligencer

STRENGTH AND IMPORTANCE OF FORTRESS MONROE .- The New Orleans Crescent admits and grieves that Fortress Monroe is the key to Virginia, and that it cannot be taken by the rebels. It says:

If we only had possession now of Fortress afty men, and it mounts three hundred and seventy one gens. The Rip Raps or Fort fort fications command Hampton Roads and James and Elizabeth rivers; and Richmoud and Norfolk and Petersburg are thus all locked up. They can have no access to the sea except between these two strong forts. Four or five hundred guns are frownby a moat, and is situated on a spit of sand bar at a point where Hampton Roads debouches into Chesepeake Bay. It is the hardest fort on the continent to take, and we doubt if it could be taken at all. We shall have to drive Old Abe and his dirty crew from Washington, and break up his government, and thus compel him to yield up this fortification and everything else within the limits of the southern states.

LIFE AT PENSACOLA .- A letter from a military man to his friend in Atlanta, Ga., gives a stiring picture of things at Pensacola. He says: Times are squally here. We have to sleep on our arms every night. Fort Pickens has about 2,500 troops within her walls. There are five war steamers lying back of the Island. We are now engaged in throwing up a sand battery, to be called the "Gate City Battery." Soldiering is a hard life. Hard work, fat bacon and hard crack-York papers which have been belaboring time to lish yet. Plenty oysters at 40 cents a hundred. Martial law was declared here little too fast. When the Baltimore mob to day, and everybody notified to take up immediately or leave. Nothing to drink here at all.

[MIE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt I position companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirity upon their real merits. In point of selvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but five equals, and no inperiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklym—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below parand are every way more reliable and permanent than and instead, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the finetiations of the market, and liable, in times of panie, as the experience of the past tenches, to become almost, if not entirely, ratheless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsura, their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, useded for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Muttal Companies, and a creating given instead of a uncertainty. All losses prompty adjusted and paid.
